At a point in time when no private player was willing to venture into this arena, the Government initiated the inception of the Company. PTC India was incorporated to undertake trading of power to achieve economic efficiency and security of supply and to develop a vibrant power market in the country. Therefore, PTC has a tri-fold mandate: To optimally utilize the existing resources to develop a full-fledged efficient and competitive power market To attract private investment in the Indian power sector• To encourage trade of power with neighbouring countries• The pioneering service of the Company led to recognition of "Power Trading" as a distinct licensed activity in the Electricity Act 2003. PTC holds Category I license from Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (CERC), the highest category with permission to trade unlimited volumes. PTC has maintained the largest market share since inception and is No. 1 in last 16 years of operations with its innovative products and services. PTC is a unique example of a successful Public-Private Partnership where the diverse representation on its Board of Directors sets the tone for its transparent governance practices. PTC is a pioneer in starting a power market in India and undertakes trading activities which include long term trading of power generated from large power projects as well as short term trading arising as a result of supply and demand mismatches, which inevitably arise in various regions of the country.

11	Details about Awardee Organization :	The Independent Power Producers Association of India (IPPAl) is an aggregator of ideas for a more cohesive and better India, through the confluence of what is cerebral and what must be implementable. At IPPAl, they believe that change must be engineered through ideas that are actionable and innovative and yet conform to governmental regulations. As an independent body that provides a neutral platform for the discussion and examination of issues critical to the development of the private power sector in India, IPPAl was set up in 1994, after the Government of India opened up power generation to private players and invited developers to set up power projects in India. IPPAl provides a cerebral platform and also an engaging interface between players in the Energy Sector, Policy Makers (Central and State level), Electricity Boards, Financial Institutions, Ministries, Power Developers, Indian and Multinational Companies, Equipment Suppliers, EPC Contractors, and Consultants. Their primary goal is to bring together all the important players, including government officials and multilateral agencies to discuss generic issues and resolve problems that may retard the progress and development of projects in the Indian energy sector, and to examine ways in which, through the freshness of ideas, and also a deeper understanding of issues, we can hope for resolution and progress. Their initiatives are focused on policy, strategic, financial, legal, regulatory, and technical issues in the power, oil and gas, and allied sectors. IPPAl has, over the past few years, conducted over a hundred workshops, round table meetings, energy summits, and international conferences, featuring a wide range of subjects from financing, regulation, policy initiatives, security issues, and the environmental and consumer concerns of NGOs. IPPAl offers its members the unique opportunity to access the latest policy and regulatory trends through debates and discussions with Government representatives, and regulatory and public and private sector entities, during the unique workshops, seminars, and other initiatives organized by them.
